HAVANA, October 17.—The latest advices from Los Tunas announce the successful progress of the campaign against the insurgents. They appeared in that district in three or four separate bands, all under the lead of a guerrilla. After the defeat of the largest body, they all dispersed, and are trying to reach the seashore with the probable intention of finding ships on which to escape from the country. The troops are pursuing them in various directions. The bands were composed of bandits, who, by the Captain General Lersundi's vigorous measures, had been driven to the mountains. There were also among them numbers of persons without regular occupations and ready for anything which promised any excitement. The entire number of the insurgents was about two hundred. The Captain General will immediately send men-of-war to prevent stragglers from leaving the coast. Puerto, Ponope, and other towns recently in the disturbance are now quiet, as the citizens are in favor of the present government.

By order of the Committee.

A. WOODWARD, Chairman.

THE CONGRESSIONAL EXCURSION.

We hope the Board of Mayor and Aldermen, at their meeting this evening, will take some action in the matter of Gen. RUFFIN'S resignation as representative of Memphis with the Congressional Excursionists from Cincinnati. They should also settle definitely as to the subscription of $3000. If that is not forthcoming, we respectfully submit Memphis ought not seek a share in results for which she is not willing to pay her fair proportion. The honor and credit of the city is in the scale and should not be lightly weighed.

THE SELMA RAILROAD.

The Board of Mayor and Aldermen will, we hope, succeed in getting a quorum together to-day, and definitely dispose of the question of aid for the Memphis and Selma Railroad. In every other effort of the officers of the Company they have been signally successful. The towns and counties of the States through which the road will pass have made liberal donations of land and money, and the people have responded nobly. There now remains but the action of the people of Memphis to set the seal of finality to this great enterprise. So far the Board of Aldermen have shown a commendable appreciation of the work, and we hope they will go farther to day, indicate to the people of the city their duty in the premises, and set an example that the county, from what we can learn, will not be slow to follow. There is no time to be lost. Parties stand ready to take contracts and commence the work, and it is all important they should be at it before the season advances to the wet and "soggy," weather, during which it will be impossible to do anything.

"THOSE ARMS."

We have diligently inquired concerning any new facts as to the seventy-five cent muskets, the property of BARBOUR LEWIS, lately destroyed by his friends, but have failed to discover anything that would interest our readers. The facts remain about as we gave them to the public. Whatchange may be made when the redoubtable proprietor of "those arms" arrives on the scene of his threatened massacre of the white people of Memphis, we are not able to divine, but we presume he will let the thing dwindle out in the hope of such reward in misrepresentation of us by the people of the North, as his friends intended and hoped for when they seized the steamer and "dumped" the weapons of war of this God-and-morality curse into the Mississippi. Perhaps his ever present thirst for greenbacks may get the better of his fervor, and a break between him and the SMITHITES take place, leading to the formation of a strictly "B. LEWIS" wing. Much as we desire the breaking up of the Radical party of Memphis, we pray this may not come to pass. An organized band of thieves like that would be too much for our people, and could not be controlled by BEAUMONT and his small squad of Metropolitans.

THE AGRICULTURAL FAIR.

To-morrow the First Fair of the revived Agricultural Association of Shelby County, will be opened with appropriate ceremonies, Col. LANDON C. HAINES having been selected as the orator of the occasion. Of course (weather permitmitting) there will be a large concourse of persons present, from the country as well as the city, and a becoming and encouraging enthusiasm be manifested on so worthy an occasion. From our merchants, mechanics and business men the members of the association reasonably look for such substantial tokens of their appreciation as the times will permit and their labors deserve. They rely upon the intelligence these classes have of the fact that while premiums accrue to those who enter for competition, the gains will remain with the city as profits for every department of business. They rely, too, upon the intelligent conception by the public that this is to be no merely idle pageant, the pleasure of an hour, but a great means to an end, such as can only be reached by similar competitive meetings. It will be an effort to combine instruction with pleasure, and profit with both. The products of the loom and the anvil, of the garden and the farm, will be there for a more intimate examination than otherwise could be afforded; and critics, intelligent as to the qualities of the various products, will be present to make sensible discrimination between the merits of exhibitors, and help the visitor to an understanding and appreciation of such a variety of handiwork as it would be impossible to find grouped under other auspices.

Viewed in this light, we hope this Fair will be well patronised. The grounds are easy of access by our city railroads, are handsomely situated, appropriately laid out and properly fenced, with ample stabling for the animals, a house for machinery, and another for flowers and plants. Pacing, trotting and other races will close each day, and from our people's well-known love of horse-flesh, will, it is believed, go far to catch those indifferent to the other attractions of the Fair. Whatever the Managers could think of, usual to affairs of the kind, they have with commendable enterprise adopted, so that visitors and patrons may rely upon a proper diversity of programme.

We repeat our urgent entreaties that our citizens will, by their presence every day, and in such other ways as may occur to them, encourage this Fair and sustain the enterprising gentlemen who have revived the Agricultural Association of Shelby County. The ladies should make it their particular duty to be present and lend their varied charms as additional incentive for the presence of the sterner sex.

"THOSE ARMS" AGAIN.

The late capture of the Hesper is creating quite an excitement at the North. The papers, generally, are well supplied with information of the affair, in the shape of special dispatches. As of interest to our readers, we give the concluding paragraphs of that to the Cincinnati Commercial, from which it will be seen that the Radical correspondent of that paper agrees with us as to the whole affair, from beginning to end, being of Radical concoction, and designed for our misrepresentation:

It is alleged that certain officials procured the capture on speculation, and for political effect. Northern carpet-baggers are wrathy and threatening.

The whole thing is looked on as a Radical concoction to furnish a Ku-Klux horror for use in the elections.

More arms are reported coming from the Grand Army of the Republic, for the negroes. Some ammunition has been sent ahead to Arkansas.

THE SOUTH—TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.

In a recent number of the New York Herald we find, under the above heading, the letter given below, without signature or other token of its origin. From the certainty with which it discovers the course to be pursued by GRANT, in case of his election to the Presidency, we are inclined to the belief that it was written by some one in his confidence, (probably Col. ADAM BADEAU), who, thus semi-authoritatively threatens the South with a continuance of the military despotism that has paralyzed her energies and, were it not for the indomitable will-power of her people, would have ruined her in every department of industry, trade and commerce. If any incentive were needed to energise the people of Shelby county and of Tennessee, and of the whole South, in their opposition to the perpetuation of an odious tyranny, the announcement of GRANT'S purposes contained in this letter should be all-sufficient.

As to the characterization of any class of the people of the South as Comanches, we will say nothing. It is a shaft aimed so low that it cannot reach the target.

We submit the letter as indicating GRANT'S merciless and cruel purpose, of applying what is styled a "necessary corrective" to the South through a stern and unrelenting Secretary of War.

To the Editor of the Herald:

The election of Gen. Grant conceded, the course which he will take to realize his grand ides of "peace" becomes of importance to our Southern friends.

That he thoroughly understands the difficulties in the way of a peaceful solution of the present complication cannot be doubted by those who understand the "grain and twist" of his comprehensive and generalizing mind.

His past history shows that in the essential attributes of a statesman, as in a successful General, he possesses a wonderful power of adapting means to ends. His policy will be shaped by the hart and practical dictates of sound common sense. His Cabinet will be composed of men who will show the world that for once the "right man is in the right place."

In dealing with the South for the next two or three years the Secretary of War will be one of his most effective officers. It is hardly necessary to say that Gen. Schofield will be retained in the place he now occupies. It is no disparagement to any of the gallant Generals whom the war has "brought to the surface" to say, that as a soldier-statesman he is the peer of them all. In the sterling qualities he more than any other resembles his General, with more perspicuity and versatility of talents. He is a man who thinks when others sleep. Like his commander he has studied the situation with great care, and most thoroughly comprehends the idiosyncrasy of the Southern mind. Perhaps no Northern man so well understands the subject, or has the nerve to apply the necessary corrective. Gen. Schofield will be Gen. Grant's Secretary of War. The South will there ore be in the hands of Gen. Grant and Gen. Schofield—men who have no pet theories to throw up or down, and who have but one aim, and that will be to bring peace and order out of the anarchy and chaos to which it is given up.

There is in the South a class of men having about the same relation to the people as the Comanches have to the peacefully disposed Indians of the West—keen and shrewd, fearless and enterprising, knowing no arguments but brute force, and unscrupulous in compassing their ends. Banded together by the instincts of public plunder, be onging to no political organization, only as they may make it useful to their ends they are ready to fight in one or both, as may best advance their interests. Like their congeners, the Comanches, there will be no peace until they are quelched or driven out of the country.

It was the energy and perseverence of these men, urged on by such men as Bob Toombs, Jeff Davis, Jo Brown and other political aspirants, that drove the otherwise peaceful and loyal people of the South into rebellion. They were truly loyal until driven by the intimidation and violence of these Comanches into the support of a cause which they loathed, but lacked the energy an necessary to meet these traitors and beat them back with their own weapons.

Grant crushed the rebellion, but it has not yet been emasculated. That he will do, and in four years he will have no so loyal and enthusiastic supporters as in the masses of the South. He will crush out the ruins of the rebellion and give these people peace and rest. That will revive their industries, which will bring them prosperity, and with prosperity will come the love of the hand that confers it. Left to their own instincts they are a loyal and conservative people. One hundred men and the presses they control keep the whole country in commotion, marring the budding prosperity of the South and exciting the prejudice of race. I much mistake Gen. Grant if he does not lay a heavy hand upon all disturbers of the peace of the people whoever they may be and wherever found.

GEN. BLAIR ON THE PROPOSED CHANGE OF THE TICKET.

On Friday night last Gen. BLAIR was serenaded by his St. Louis friends at his residence in that city. A grand torch-light procession, imposing in every particular, as to numbers, respectability and enthusiasm, was the fitting compliment paid to the gallant champion and standard-bearer of the Democratic party, upon his return home from an arduous campaign. Called out by the vast crowd, the future Vice-President made a sensible, timely and appropriate speech, the opening sentence of which was the reassuring announcement that the result of the late elections had not discouraged him; that he was neither dismayed nor terrified, but hopeful, cheerful and determined as ever. As to the proposition of the bond-holders and the World to withdraw his and the name of Gov. SEYMOUR and substitute therefor the names of CHASE and HANCOCK, he spoke as follows:

I am the candidate of the Democratic party for a very distinguished position, and I expect to be a candidate so long as they desire it; so long as I can avail to help the great cause which we all have at heart; but my fellow-citizens, it will be no sacrifice to me, or rather it will be a work of pleasure to me to surrender that position whenever by so doing I can add one vote to the strength of the Democracy in this State or any other of the States.

I am not a candidate for the purpose of embarrassing or frustrating and defeating principles which have my cordial support, and when I cease to be of use in one capacity I am ready to try it in another, and I call upon you here to-night for the great cause which we all have espoused, not to hesitate to make any sacrifice demanded to gain for us the victory. So am I ready to make any sacrifice; so am I ready to go on and do anything, to take upon my shoulders any burden, or to lay down any that may have been conferred upon me heretofore.

And this brings me to allude to that rumor in our midst to-day. [A voice—"That's what we want."] It has been said here that both the candidates for the Presidency and Vice-Presidency have signified their intention to decline in favor of some other candidates. All I have to say is that both of the candidates have always, from the moment they were nominated to this moment, and will always be ready to lay down their candidacy when it can no longer be of service to the Democratic party of the country. [Cheers.] It is should be believed that by so doing we could add to the strength of the Democratic party, and give it a better chance of victory, you will find you are not mistaken either in your candidate for the Presidency or the Vice-Presidency, for they will justify in your eyes the great honor and distinction which you have conferred upon them by showing that they are not unworthy and not insensible of the honor. [A voice—"We want no Chase." Other voices—"No, no."] That is for you to say. [Voices—"Well done," and cries of "Hendricks for Blair."]

I do not desire, my fellow-citizens, an expression from you to-night upon that subject. I want you to view it calmly and dispassionately, without regard to the feelings of any man, because the feelings of individuals are nothing in the scale as compared with the great objects we have in view, that of success and the restoration of our country. I do not intend to abandon the field. In one sense at least, I mean to bear my share of the battle, whether in the ranks or as an officer; I will depend upon the wishes of the Democratic party.

THE CHANGE OF CANDIDATES—WHAT THE PAPERS SAY.

The following newspaper extracts were telegraphed from New York on Friday, the 16th inst:

The World this morning repeats substantially its editorial of yesterday, advising a change of candidates. It says:

"The charges against Blair are false, but as they are believed, the effect is just as bad as if they were true. They carry an imputation that cannot be successfully rebutted, and unless it can be removed the November election will result like the present one. An event is needed of such nature that it cannot be ignored nor misrepresented. Without such an event there will be sure defeat."

The Express denounces the World's faltering course, and says that change of front, when advancing on the enemy, is one of the most perilous of tactics, military or political. It calls for the earnest work on the part of the Democracy, and says "whoever despairs of the State or Republic while there is opportunity to vote against the misgovernment which has cursed our country for a few years past, is not true to himself, his principles or his duties."

The Post advises the Democracy to drop Seymour and Blair, and go unanimously for Grant and Colfax and Republican principles.

The Post's Washington special says that there is no doubt that the proposition to put a new Democratic ticket in the field is received with favor by the President. Gen. Hancock says the defeat of the party is now certain, whatever it may do. Gen. Rosencrans says it is too late for a change of front; that the party has fallen irretrievably into the hands of rebels, and must suffer the consequences.

The Sun, in an editorial for to-morrow, suggests that the panic among the Democrats is like that of the national army at Bull Run: "The sentiment of danger which impels the disordered mass is well founded, but the remedy to which they look is inadequate and ill-judged. The Democracy is involved in direct peril. It is on the verge of irreparable destruction. Its enemies are pursuing with a relentless fury. But will the rage of triumph and the lust of spoils be appeased by sacrificing the Democratic chiefs? Messrs. Tilden, Belmont and Schell are just as much frightened as any of the others, but, like prudent leaders, they make a show of self-possession. The only escape for the Democracy is, to voluntarily retire from the contest. It is better to give up the fight than be killed in it. The National Committee have no power to change candidates, or to modify a platform. But Gov. Seymour and Gen. Blair can withdraw of their own accord. Let them do so. Let them state frankly that this course seems to be their duty; that there is no alternative, except the final dissolution of the party."

—The building of the Jackson Branch of the Nashville and Northwestern rail road, will give a new impetus to the prosperity of Huntingdon and open up for it a future little dreamed of by the old fogies who are eternally prating of dull times and poor prospects. With this connection and others which the keen observation of business men will soon demonstrate as necessary, our town will become a railroad center of no mean pretension. With increased facilities for business, business will increase, population will be promoted, and all the elements of prosperity will gather around us. Enterprise will beget enterprise; then woe to the laggard in business who keeps not pace with the quick-step of modern Huntingdon.

—The "Zephyrina" is the the name of the last issued hoop skirt. It is said to be a marvel of lightness, fleetness, flexibility and tenacity; and one of the shop-keepers publicly announces that it makes the ladies feel as though they had nothing on.

—A devotee of fashion predicts that another season of short ball dresses, tight boots, and an agonized expression on the faces of the wearers, will be the fashion.

ST. LOUIS, October 17.—A street encounter took place to-day between two well-known lawyers of this city—D. Robert Barclay and Brittan A. Hill, both old residents. Mr. Barclay attacked him in front of the Planter's House with a horse whip, and inflicted quite a number of severe blows on his head and face. Hill defended himself with a cane, striking Barclay several times. Hill received one or two slight cuts on his hand from a knife used by Barclay. No arrests were made. The affair grew out of some pleadings made by Hill in a divorce case between himself and his wife, in which he alluded to Barclay's wife in an offensive manner.

The Democrat has a special from Pine Bluff, Ark., dated the 17th, which says Wm. J. Dollar, a Deputy Sheriff of Drew county, an old and wealthy citizen, while out serving subpœnas, was tied to a negro last night and both shot by Ku-Klux.

Gen. Blair made two speeches to large crowds here last night which were very enthusiastically received.

Gen. E. Brown, U. S. Pension Agent here, was required yesterday to plead to an indictment against him for conspiring to defraud the Government in connection with distilled spirits. The General's brother was also arrested on a charge of complicity in tobacco fraude.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, October 18.—The following is a correct and authentic statement of the present position of the question of trade in the British Provinces, the settlement of the fisheries disputes, and the free navigation of the St. Lawrence:

Thornton, British Minister here, addressed a note to Seward in July last, calling his attention to the distressed condition of people of the United States, in consequence of their exclusion from our markets, consequent upon the termination of the reciprocity treaty, and asking him to enter into negotiations. Seward referred Mr. Thornton's communication to McCulloch, Secretary of the Treasury. Mr. McCulloch replied that the treaty having been abrogated by legislative branches of the Government, he considered it would not be advisable to resume negotiations till they should be reopened, and at the same time expressed his (McCulloch's) opinion that it was for the interest of the United States that the question should be adjusted in some definite manner. A correspondence was sent by Mr. Seward to the Committee on Ways and Means just before the July adjournment. In reply to the Committee on Ways and Means, Mr. Seward informed them he was ready to open negotiations for the new reciprocity treaty whenever the Committee should refer the subject to him. Hooper, Allison, Maynard, Brooks, Logan and Niblack, of the Committee, agreed to make such a report, and Gen. Schenck was willing it should be made; Mr. Griswold was absent. The adjournment, however, took place so early, that there was no opportunity of putting the report before the House, and hence the matter goes over till the reassembling of Congress, with the knowledge that the Committee on Ways and Means are unanimous on the subject, and that Mr. Seward will open negotiations as soon as the committee are enabled to report in the Senate. The question has also been referred to the Committee on Foreign relations, and it is known that the Chairman (Mr. Sumner) is in favor of negotiation.

There is the best authority for saying that President Johnson has neither approved the proposition to withdraw Seymour nor intimated a wish to be nominated, or willingness to accept such nomination, but on the contrary has looked upon the proposition for a change of candidates as injurious and ill-timed.

FOREIGN.

LONDON, October 18.—There are rumors of a large reduction in the French army. Confidence in the maintenance of peace and expectations in favor of liberal reforms by the Emperor animate Paris and have a cheerful influence on public affairs in England. The Parliamentary canvass throughout Great Britain is becoming very lively. Several Tory members of the last House have withdrawn their names as candidates and retired discouraged, and the liberals are confident they will have a majority of three thousand or more on a full House. Mr. Roebuck's hostility to trades unions insures his success in Sheffield. Mr. Gladstone is actively canvassing South Lancashire, where he daily addresses large and enthusiastic meetings.

The succession to the Spanish throne remains undecided. The choice of Prince Alfred of England, which has been suggested, is regarded as impossible, because he is a Protestant. The name of Ferdinand, ex-King of Portugal, is mentioned with favor. Though ultra Catholic in religion, he is regarded as politically liberal, is popular in Spain, and would be unobjectionable to the Emperor Napoleon.

NEWSPAPER SALES.

In making our returns to the United States Assessor for the quarter ending the first inst., we did not include the profits and expenses of our Superintendent of Circulation, who will himself account for these to the Government. Had we done so, as we shall in the future, our returns for the time above stated, would have been just $1550 00 greater than they appear on the books of the Assessor. We call the attention of our business men and merchants to the corrected figures which we make as follows:

APPEAL	$5401 94
Avalanche	4894 17
Bulletin	3807 63
Ledger	2851 28

In addition, we have to say that we do not derive any profit from our Sunday Paper, as our subscribers are served, seven papers each week, at 25 cents per week, the price formerly charged by us for six issues.

CITY MATTERS.

FELIX CROSS, Esq., has our thanks for the latest Southern and Eastern papers.

THE WEATHER took another change yesterday, and a cold, drizzling rain prevailed all day.

ATTENTION is called to the card of A. M. Stoddard & Co., Auctioneers, No. 37 Union street, in this morning's issue.

THE CITY, during the coming week, will be very gay—the Theater, Circus and Fair will all be progressing at once.

PERSONAL.—Col. W. D. Fly, of Mississippi, is in the city and is stopping at the Commercial Hotel.

THE CHURCHES were but slimly attended yesterday either at morning or evening service, in consequence of the inclemency of the weather.

THE HOTELS were all quite full of guests yesterday, and each arriving train and steamboat brings accessions to their numbers.

FRESH OYSTERS! REDUCED PRICE! Fresh oysters received daily at No. 36 Jefferson street, at seventy-five cents per can.

DRINKS REDUCED TO FIFTEEN CENTS. Sam's Saloon, opposite New Memphis Theater, will re-open this morning. Call and see Sam and Billy.

ATTENTION, TAX PAYERS!—City and School Scrip and County Warrants can be obtained at the lowest rates, at the Memphis City Savings' Bank, corner of Jefferson and Front streets.

ALL KINDS OF SCRIP.—City, School, or Police, and County Warrants, in sums to suit purchasers, at Memphis City Savings' Bank, corner of Jefferson and Front streets.

MISS CHARLOTTE THOMPSON.—The paragraph which appeared in the APPEAL yesterday morning, under the head of "Actors, what they are worth pecuniarily," about this young lady, entirely escaped the eye of the editor in clipping, and thus got in. All who know anything of Miss Thompson know that the paragraph is malicious.

JOE LOCKE has on his stands at No. 236½ Main street, all of the very latest newspapers, periodicals and magazines. Le Monde Illustre, the Illustrire Zeitung, the Journal des Modes, Le Bon Ton, Die Modenwelt, and several other French and German serial publications, besides all of the American illustrated news and sporting papers. Call at Joe's, No. 236½ Main, and get your reading matter. The New Orleans papers received every day.

THE CIRCUS.—Ames' great circus has at length arrived, and will this morning march through the streets with the elephants, giraffes, lions, tigers, and the innumerable beasts of the menagerie, in grand cavalcade. This, of itself, is a splendid show, gratis to everybody. The lot opposite the Central Hotel, on Adams street, has been selected for the pavilion; gas has been introduced, and as their vast tent is waterproof, exhibitions will take place twice a day in spite of wind and weather. They give two exhibitions a day, a matinee in the afternoon at two o'clock, and the other in the evening at seven. This circus comes to us with the highest encomiums of the press elsewhere, and we have no hesitation in recommending it to our people. Everybody should go.

TO WHOLESALE MERCHANTS, COTTON FACTORS AND OTHERS.—We would call the attention of cotton factors, commission and wholesale merchants, to the plan of advertising lately adopted by the WEEKLY APPEAL, the advantages of which cannot fail to be apparent to every one,—that of sending to their country correspondents copies of the WEEKLY APPEAL, put up in wrappers, with the business card of the sender stamped or printed thereon. The farmer, or country merchant, appreciates above all the little attentions which can be shown him by his city merchant, a large, well filled, interesting newspaper like the WEEKLY APPEAL. It is issued, and is ready for delivery every Wednesday morning, and contains not less than thirty-eight columns of reading matter of the choicest description, embracing the very latest markets, telegraphic and local news. In order to secure the wrappers, it will be necessary to send in an order stating a gross number, to be delivered so many weekly. This is in order to print the sheets all at once. Only the number desired will be put up each week. Orders left at the APPEAL counting room, No. 13 Jefferson street, will be promptly attended to.

AN OLD AND RELIABLE FIRM "OPENED OUT" EXTENSIVELY.—George H. Monsarrat & Co., the old and reliable real estate firm, have recently taken the spacious and elegant storeroom in the Ayres Block, on the east side of Court Square, where they propose to connect the general auction business with the real estate business. Col. Monsarrat will as heretofore give his attention to the sale of real estate, in which department, from his great experience and perfect knowledge of the value of real estate, has been regarded for years as the best, most successful and reliable real estate man in the South. To those for whom he has heretofore done business, no word of commendation is necessary. This firm has a large amount of real estate for sale, and we would advise all who wish to invest to act promptly, for there is a reaction in real estate taking place, and confidence is being restored, so that we may look for an advance in the price of all things before long. Capt. John Wilkerson and Capt. W. R. Cullen are connected with this establishment. Capt. Wilkerson (long John) has been the auctioneer of all sorts of wares and merchandise in this city since Memphis was a little village at the mouth of Wolf. He is "all right" in his department. The rental and collecting department is under the control of Mr. E. J. Walton, an old and well-known citizen of this city, of many years' standing. He will give his entire attention to this branch of the business. We wish our old friends success in their new enterprise.

Look for Cheap Table!---Great bargains in Dress Goods and House Furnishing Goods. Our stock must be closed out this season. J. H. Loewenstine & Bros., No. 231 Main street.

WOOD AND COAL.—Messrs. Bigley, Mellersh & Co. announce to their friends and the public, that they are prepared to furnish coal and wood, of any quality and in any quantity, at the shortest notice, and to deliver orders in any part of the city. Give them a call. 2t

THEATRICAL.

Opening Night at the New Memphis.

To-night, after having been closed for several months, the doors of the New Memphis Theater are to be thrown open to the public. The opening night of the regular season of an established theater is always an event of pleasant interest, both dramatically and socially. To the people it formally signals the beginning of the pleasures of fall and winter, and the greeting of familiar faces on the stage and in the audience, that for months have been strange to them. It is with more than the ordinary pleasure, however, that we hail the commencement of the present dramatic season. The last season closed early in the spring, earlier by several weeks than had been customary hitherto. Other amusements soon followed suit, and for months past we have been totally without anything like a decent, high-toned place of entertainment. The people have been so long deprived of anything like rational amusement, that they have begun to crave it, and the present opening really fills a want of the community at large. The management of the New Memphis therefore commence their labors under very favorable circumstances, for a public only becomes querulous and critical after it is surfeited or tired out. The preparations for the coming season have on the part of the management, been very extensive and complete. During the summer, the interior of the building was thoroughly renovated, paint and varnish and gilding being used lavishly. The scenery was retouched, and a great many new and beautiful scenes painted. The machinery also underwent a thorough overhauling, and we will venture to say that there is not a theater in the country where the stage and scenic paraphernalia are now in a more perfect condition. This, as every actor will say, is a great adjunct to success, especially in the style of drama which of late years has obtained with the American public. There have been some advantageous changes, we believe, in the auditorium, and the arrangement of seats, by which the audience are brought rather more compactly together, and every seat so arranged, in reference to the stage, as to enable the occupier to enjoy the smallest changes of facial expression of the actors.

The dramatic company whose services the management have secured, are first-class artists, selected from the best theaters in America. Among them there are, as we remarked a few days ago, several who have acquired a national reputation. Mr. Robert McWade, the stage manager, is an old favorite of the Memphis public, both in his official capacity in the theater, as an actor, and as a private gentleman. As an actor, in certain roles of comedy, he has few superiors. Mr. Theodore Hamilton, the leading man, is another gentleman well known to the Southern stage. In Mobile, especially, there are few who have so many and warm personal friends as Mr. Hamilton. Mr. and Mrs. Lanagan are also old favorites of the Memphis public, Mrs. Lanagan having perhaps more admirers and friends than any other lady ever connected with the Memphis stage. Mrs. Cline, the singing soubrette comes to us with the warmest encomiums of the press and will, we doubt not, soon win a place in the affections of the play goers. The orchestra, to whom no small share of the pleasure of theatrical entertainments is always due, is composed of accomplished musicians, and is under the leadership of Mr. George Handwerker, who is thoroughly qualified to wield the baton of Kappelmeister in any theater in this country. A full list of stars have also been secured, for the season opening with Miss Charlotte Thompson, of whom it is superfluous for us to speak, her merits being too well known and highly appreciated to need any encomiums at our hands. The programme for this evening is rather unique and is a departure from the old customs that, we have no hesitation in saying, will give universal satisfaction. After an overture by the orchestra, Mrs. Lanagan will appear and deliver an opening address, written for her by a well known literary gentleman of this city. At the close of the address the company, in full strength, will be introduced, and sing the opening chorus of La Grande Duchesse de Gerolstein. The regular performance will then commence—the play for the evening being The Lady of Lyons, with Miss Charlotte Thompson as "Pauline," a role in which she has no superior and few equals. The ladies of the city have been looking forward to opening night with eagerness, we understand, and have made preparations to turn out in force this evening. We may therefore look for a most brilliant and beautiful display, and we close with a wish that the skies may be propitious, and that long ere it is time for lighting the footlights the rain that is now falling so persistently will have ceased.

To the Public.

Mr. Harry Weatherbee will re-open the saloon 84 Jefferson street, in the New Memphis Theater Building this day. Mr. John Van Winkle, who took such pride in the house last season, again assumes command, and Mr. Con. Kelleher and Mr. Geo. Keeffe are his assistants, both competent and perfect artists in their line. Every article used in this saloon comes from Mr. Weatherbee's cellar of 31 Jefferson street, and all persons patronising the Theater saloon will obtain the very same liquors, wines and cigars used in 31 Jefferson street, which are well known throughout the land to be of the very best. Mr. Weatherbee's saloons are well known to excel all others in every respect, particularly as to quiet, order and cleanliness. The proprietor requests his friends to give him a call, and promises to receive them with his old smile and a hearty shake of the hand. A private wine room is attached to this establishment.

NEW YORK, August 7, 1868.—Mr. Editor: Several of your correspondents, very old and respectable no doubt, seem to be wonderfully exercised as to the origin of our Plantation Bitters. So long as these Bitters are all that we represent them to be, we do not know that it makes any difference from whom they come, or from whence they originated; but for the information of the public generally, and old Capt. Wentz in particular, we will say that he told the truth, and that these Bitters originated in the West India Islands—that many of the ingredients have been favorably used for over a century, but our combination of Calisaya is entirely new, and our own. The rum and other materials are the same, and as your correspondent says, a better Bitters and Tonic is not made. We recommend them particularly for dyspeptics, fever and ague, debility, loss of appetite, and in all cases where a tonic and stimulant is required.

THE FAIR.

Grand Opening Day To-Morrow.

The busy labors of preparation and arrangement for the Agricultural Fair will come to a close to-day. This morning at ten o'clock there will be a meeting of the officers and committees of the Society, and to-morrow morning the first Fair held in Shelby county since the days of peace and prosperity before the war, will commence. As yet no programme has been issued, and we cannot, therefore, speak of the order of opening exercises as we should wish. This is an oversight of the Association, which we very much regret, as we should like to be able to lay it before our readers this morning.

Ever since the Agricultural Association determined to revive the custom of annual Fairs, which, before the war, obtained here, as in every portion of this State, all classes of society have taken a deep interest in the project, hailing it as an evidence of returning prosperity. And, although the time was so short, (scarcely a month having elapsed since the project was first mooted,) so great was the energy displayed by those to whom it was committed to make the arrangements, and so promptly have the people responded, that we are now about to inaugurate a Fair which in point of interest promises to equal, if not excel, anything of the sort ever seen in Shelby county, even in her palmiest days.

The list of premiums which we have published from day to day, is of a very comprehensive character, and embraces every branch of handicraft, horticulture, agriculture, stock-raising, etc.; thus inviting to competition (not so much for the amount offered, although they are in some instances very considerable), all classes of the community. The farmers and planters of our county, have especially exerted themselves in responding to the calls of the Association, and while our merchants have contributed the funds, they have interested themselves in securing and sending forward articles for exhibition.

The three days which the Fair is to last have been so divided as to give a specialty to each, rendering it peculiarly interesting. On the first day the opening ceremonies, the speech of Col. Haynes, and probably of other orators, will be the features of the day. The judges will render prizes for sheep, agricultural implements, hogs, blooded horses, mares or geldings, jacks and jennets. On this day the riding ring will be open for boys under fourteen years of age; to the best rider a prize of ten dollars is offered. On the second day premiums will be awarded for mules, manufactures, poultry, breeding cattle, horticulture (in this Messrs. Wilkerson & Co. offer two special prizes, one for sage and the other for hops), domestic articles (cotton and woolen yarns, quilts, etc.), embroidery, harness horses, matched horses, fine arts (oil and water-color paintings, sign painting, photographs, etc.), cotton and tobacco. The ring will be open in the morning for matched horses to harness, and in the afternoon for gentlemen riders, over fourteen years old, for prizes of ten dollars each. The third and last day will be devoted to the display of flowers, canned fruits, fruits, blooded, saddle and harness horses, fat cattle and the best yoke of oxen. On this day there are sweepstake prizes for the best and finest of any breed or age of cattle, $10; hogs $10; horses $20; sheep $10; speed horses (trotting stallion, mare or gelding,) $100. A grand cavalcade of masked equestrians, to the most expert and grotesque of whom will be given a prize of ten dollars and a brass medal, will close the exhibition.

In addition to those that are offered by the society, there are several outside prizes offered.

Messrs. Tobin, Lynn & Co. offer a prize of $100 for the best bale of cotton shipped to them. The Street Railroad Company offers a prize of ten dollars and a brass medal to be contested for a mule race, the slowest mule to take the stakes. These mule races furnish a great deal of amusement when properly managed, and we doubt not that it will be prolific of fun. A magnificent band will present the whole time to furnish music; and every species of refreshments will be for sale on the grounds, so that parties who wish can spend the day there without being troubled about preparing and carrying a lunch.

The Floral Hall, we understand, will make a most gorgeous and beautiful display, numbers of our amateur and professional floriculturists, having sent their choicest plants and flowers thither for competition.

The steamboats and trains which came in yesterday and the day before, brought large numbers of visitors from other cities and the country, and from present appearances we shall have a very large concourse at the opening. The only thing which can mar or prevent a grand success, may be the inclemency of the weather. The rain which set in yesterday morning is, at writing, still falling determinedly. We hope, however, long ere this reaches the eyes of the reader, that the skies will have cleared off, and Heaven begun to smile upon our project.

MEMPHIS AND SELMA RAILROAD.

Meetings at West Point and Houston, Miss.

The People Along the Route Wide Awake and Moving.

Correspondence of the Appeal.]

WEST POINT, MISS., October 9, 1868.

Editors Memphis Appeal:

Gentlemen: Perceiving that your paper, true to the principles which have marked its career of over a quarter of a century is now nobly engaged in pushing forward the great project of the Selma and Memphis Railroad, I send you the following reports of the proceedings of a meeting held at this place, and at Houston. The meeting here took place on the 29th ult., and was largely attended by our best and most influential citizens. J. G. Baptist, Esq., was called to the chair, and Messrs. G. V. Brame and J. C. Shoup requested to act as secretaries. After the chair explained the object of the meeting, the following resolutions were adopted:

1. That we cordially invite Gen. Forrest and Maj. Sykes to address the citizens of West Point and adjacent country on the subject of the proposed Railroad from Memphis, Tenn., to Selma, Ala., at such a time as may suit their convenience.

2. That in view of the reciprocal advantages to those cities of connecting the waters of the Mississippi with those of the Alabama and its tributaries, thus opening the teeming products of the great Northwest to the one, and the great cotton bearing region of East Mississippi and South Alabama to the other, the great consideration with the corporators of said proposed railroad will doubtless be liberality of subscriptions, cheapness of construction, shortness of the route, and the greatest amount of freight and travel to be secured.

3. That having these objects in view, we suggest that it is susceptible of demonstration that the route from Holly Springs via Houston, Palo Alto, Siloam, West Point, Columbus, Eutaw and Marion to Selma, is the shortest one that can be secured, and certainly passes through a more fertile and populous country, and at a central point through the valley of the Tombigbee.

4. That the following named gentlemen be and they are hereby appointed a committee to confer with the citizens of Houston, Palo Alto, Siloam and Columbus, in the objects contemplated by this meeting, and also to carry out the objects of the first resolution, to-wit: Dr. J. W. Crump, Capt. W. W. Robinson, J. F. Jack, Esq., Capt. R. L. Cannon, Capt. J. C. Shoup, Hon. J. G. Baptist, and G. W. Brame, Esq.

5. That the newspaper press of Holly Springs, Houston and Columbus, be requested to publish the proceedings of this meeting.

The citizens of Houston met yesterday, and appointed a committee, consisting of Messrs. T. N. Martin, J. R. McIntosh, J. N. Carothers and J. J. Denis to communicate with the committee appointed by the citizens of West Point. The following resolution, among others, was adopted;

Resolved, That the citizens of Houston and its vicinity, have, with much pleasure, learned that the enterprising people of West Point are taking steps to call public attention to the fact that the nearest and most practicable route for the contemplated railroad from Memphis to Selma is by the way of Houston, Palo Alto, Siloam, West Point, Columbus, and Eutaw. And this meeting, representing as it does, the views and wishes of the great body of the people of Chickasaw county, accept the proposal of the people of West Point and pledge their hearty co-operation in the proposed enterprise.

The Houston Committee have addressed a letter to Messrs. Jack, Cannon, Crump and others, constituting the West Point Committee, in which they express the gratification of the citizens of Houston at, and their appreciation of the action of the "West Pointers." They suggest the propriety of having some general demonstration of the will of the people along the line of this route—as well in reference to the advantages of their route over all others, as also of the willingness of the people to give material aid to the enterprise in the way of taking stock, etc. As a means of accomplishment of this much desired end, they suggest that a convention of the people who favor this route be called to meet at some suitable time and place.

This road must be built, and, that it will be built, there is no longer a shadow of a doubt. The people have decreed it, and before many moons shall have waxed and waned, the valley of the Tibbee, Chaquatonla, Houlka and Schoona, will be resounding to the puff of the iron horse.

As soon as any definite action is taken, I will send you a full report of the proceedings.

Yours truly,

LOKE O'MOTIVE.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

FINANCE.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY APPEAL, MEMPHIS, October 17, 1868.

We have at last reached the turning point in our city finances and to-day are able to chronicle the advance which we have on several occasions, through the columns of the APPEAL, declared must ensue. This appreciation in our city securities is due entirely to the firmness which has characterised the gentlemen having control of this department of our city government, and to them, as well as the few of our capitalists who have stood by them, is due all the credit. The result must be gratifying to our citizens. We are firmly convinced that our bonds will continue to improve daily until they ultimately become worth their face. A party who has been on the market for some time, and has thoroughly satisfied himself as to the value of the different securities offered in this market, to-day purchased in one lot $10,000 of our Navy bonds at 60s. This is an advance of nearly 20 per cent. in two days alone. Other parties who have orders to fill were anxious to buy the "paving" or "plain" bonds during the day at 52@53c, but were unable to do so. As money becomes easier from the sale of cotton parties will seek investments, and we know of none better than Memphis bonds, which at present rates pay an annual interest of 12 per cent.

Exchange is abundant, far in excess of any demand. This is likely to be the case during the season and evidences a healthy state of monetary affairs. Our crop this year will not all be absorbed by Eastern creditors, but our people will come out with money in their pockets. Rates are uniform at ⅛c discount buying. The counter selling rates remain at par with an occasional concession to dealers. We will add that the offerings to-day were not as well distributed as usual. Some of our discount houses had very little presented, while others had all they wished to take.

City Scrip is somewhat excited. In two weeks more those who have not paid their taxes, will be requested to pay the penalty which accrues from such neglect, and to avoid that very many of our property holders are in the market. Brokers give as their buying rates 73@74s, but we are satisfied that available sums would be taken at 75 and even 76s. They sell at 75@80s as to amount.

Gold opened in New York to-day at 136¾, and closed at 137¼. We quote at 135@136 buying.

County Warrants are also in demand. We quote at 60@63c buying; selling at 62@65c.

Police Scrip is firm. Buying at 80s; selling at 85c.

We have no change to report in School Scrip. Buying at 80s; selling at 85c.

The sale of Memphis and Charleston stock, alluded to more than once within a few days, amounted to 1000 shares. This amount was purchased by a broker from a Florence, Ala., party at 50c, and was resold at 51c. $4000 of Mississippi and Tennessee, 1st mortgage 7 per cent. bonds changed hands to-day at 60s.

COTTON.

The Liverpool market was steady at the opening to-day—Uplands 10¾d, Orleans 11d, and closed firmer, but quotations unchanged. Sales 12,000 bales.

In New York at the opening the market was quiet with quotations nominally unchanged. It was firm at noon, and closed firm with a moderate demand—Low Middlings 25½c, Uplands 25½c. Estimated sales 2000 bales. Receipts for the week in that market, 3550 bales. Gross receipts to date, 17,700 bales. Receipts for the week at all United States ports, 52,520 bales.

Our market was rather firmer than yesterday and some sellers claimed that prices were better by ⅛c, while others thought there was no sensible change in quotations. Several large sales were made, but as is usual on Saturday, the market was comparatively quiet. Among the largest sales were 100 bales Low Middlings at 22c, 46 at 22c, 76 at 22c, and 162 at 22⅛c; 68 bales Middlings 22½c, and 50 at 22⅞c. We quote as follows:

Ordinary	21 @ —
Good Ordinary	21½@—
Low Middlings	22 @22¼
Middlings	22¾@23
Strict Middling	23½@—
Good Middlings	24 @25

At the time when the entire movement of cotton was by the seaboard, the crop was estimated by the receipts at the delivery ports, as recorded by the commercial organs of the several cities. The consumption on plantations or in country towns for home manufacturing, mattresses etc., was not taken into account and the crop was set down at the amount of actual receipts. For practical purposes this was all that was then required. The object was to ascertain the amount of the supply for the Northern and the foreign trade. The actual growth was a matter of interest to none but those interested in agricultural statistics. But, with the increase in cotton manufactures at the South and the West, it became necessary to make a proper allowance for their consumption, which was determined partly by the records of river shipments and partly by conjecture. These have no recognized authorities to refer to upon the subject, and the estimates in relation to it were made without much pretension to exactness or accuracy. The difference between the apparent crop as determined by the receipts at the delivery ports, increased with the extension of railway transportation and the high prices of the staple, rendering the rate of freight a matter of inconsiderable moment. Hence assiduous efforts have been made to ascertain the amount forwarded by the interior routes to the West and the North for consumption, and proper allowance has been made for them in the annual crop statements. But the matter has not yet been fully investigated, and parties who made calculations of our last crop differ in important particulars.

In noticing this subject, the Boston Post suggests that the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers should assume the task of obtaining accurate information in relation to it, which if thoroughly accomplished, would involve a greater expenditure of labor and money than would be warranted by any private business, whether of journalist, merchant or broker. The suggestion is well worthy of consideration. The credit of the association being involved in the honesty of its reports, they would, no doubt, command the public confidence; and the wide and reliable connections it would readily establish would give it ample sources of correct information. It would undoubtedly be attended with some expense—the employment of an intelligent statistician at its office, and reliable agents at the principal seaboard and interior markets in the cotton growing region. In a matter of such moment it would hardly do to trust for information to voluntary correspondents, whose interests might be affected by their reports. Paid agents, whose first duty would be to their employers, and upon whose integrity full reliance would be placed, would, in most cases be the proper sources from which to derive local reports. By this means much valuable information might be obtained in regard to the prospect of the growing crops, consumption, etc., which would enable the trade everywhere to conduct their operations with more steadiness and confidence. The relations of supply to demand once established, prices would rule accordingly, and seldom suffer the remarkable variations they have hitherto exhibited.

One of the chief evils under the present regulations of the trade is the uncertain information published by the press, and repeated in commercial circulars. This has been increased by many parties not discriminating between commercial bales, or the actual packages delivered at the seaboard, and statistical bales of an estimated weight. The former have been used as the proper basis for crop accounts, but computing the crop by the number of pounds returned to Government officials, and estimating a bale at 400 pounds, they have made the crops of former years much larger than in the records of commercial authorities. Hence, we have frequently seen the crops of 1859-60 noted as 5,000,000 bales, when it was only 4,675,770. What is wanted in this matter is accurate information, statistics that can be relied upon, and an authority which the trade will recognize throughout its entire circle.

TRADE.

Business was not active to-day on Front or Main streets, but upon our retail thoroughfares there was quite a stir and ladies were out in numbers. Our provision market remains very quiet, owing to the short supply of almost everything in this line. Mess Pork is firm at $32, while clear sides are held at 18½c by the cask, and are sold at 19c in small lots. Lots to arrive are taken at 18¼c. Corn is very scarce and firm. The receipts for the week have been lighter than ever known before and will no doubt continue to be so until the new crop comes in by wagon. Lots have already come in that way, but it is too green to keep well, and is only taken by feeders in small quantities. Flour is dull and very much unsettled. Lots received on consignment are closed out at the best figures obtainable and in quantities seldom exceeding a dray load. The trade in bagging continues fair, while rope is neglected. Our merchants report the average orders for rope as not exceeding one in ten received. The iron tie seems to have superceded rope, from its cheapness, as well as the superior qualities which are claimed for it in the case of fire.

The rates of taxation in the United States in the years 1860 and 1868 will be given in an interesting table, now in course of preparation by the Bureau of Statistics at Washington. The exact figures, supported by documentary proof and going into minute details, will appear in the tables when published. The rough estimates are as follows: In 1860, the federal tax paid by the people of the United States was $56,000,000; the State tax, $24,000,000; and county town, special, and other taxes, $54,000,000—making a total of $134,000,000, or about $4 32 for each individual. In 1868 the amount of federal tax was $500,000,000; State tax, $75,000,000, and the county, town, special, and other taxes, $276,000,000—making a total of $851,000,000, or $28 for each person in the United States.

Letters from Georgia report that in consequence of the destruction caused by the caterpillars and boll worms, the cotton crop of 1868 will not yield more than half the amount produced in 1867.

The Savannah News of Tuesday says of the disastrous effects of the late rains upon the rice crop: We learn that the recent heavy rains, and the floods in the rivers and creeks consequent thereon, have had a very disastrous effect upon the rice crops. A few weeks ago it was thought that the crop would be very heavy this season; but within the week just passed one-third of the crop raised along the Savannah, Ogeechee and Altamaha rivers has been destroyed, and the floods are not yet over. This will materially lessen the estimates which have been formed of the amount of rice which would be raised this year.

The amount of damage done has been carefully calculated. It is placed very low, perhaps, as the destruction is going on every day now. The floods have been greater this year than they have been known to be for many years, and the damage they have done thus far is very great. We hope that the rice planters will come off better than they anticipate, but things look gloomy at present.

RIVER MATTERS.

WEATHER AND RIVERS.

MEMPHIS, October 19.—Rain fell all day yesterday, and at a late hour in the night had no appearance of easing up. The river opposite this city is falling steadily, and will soon be at low-water mark if the present rate of decline continues. All the rivers of Arkansas are falling slowly. From Cairo to St. Louis there is 5 feet scant, and along the Ohio at various points from Louisville to Pittsburg, boats are having trouble with the bars.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Such of our packets as arrived yesterday had good trips and brought many passengers who had come to attend the Fair which opens on Tuesday, and will no doubt be a great success.

The cook on the Hesper declares that when the tug Nettie Jones approached that craft, and before she had gotten within two hundred yards, the masked goblins began to jump aboard. They sprang or flitted over the intervening space of water as easily as a person could jump over an edition of the Bulletin. Seeing them do the thing so readily, the cook thought he could clear the few feet between the Hesper and the bank, but lacking the wings, agility or airiness of the destroyers, he only succeeded in alighting in the river, from which one of the maskers rescued him.

It is said that the Solly goes into the New Orleans and Yazoo trade.

Larry Battaile, a well known Yazoo river clerk, died on that stream a few days ago of congestion of the bowels.

The organization of the Memphis and Vicksburg line, talked of some time ago, will soon be perfected. Two fine packets will enter the trade about the 1st of November, or as soon as Capt. John Davis returns from his present trip to Washington.

The H. M. Shreve, Capt. Carter, with Mr. Worsham in the office, leaves to-day for Vicksburg and the bends. She is well officered and is a good steamer.

The Nightingale has been raised and taken to St. Louis.

Capt. Davidson, of the White Collar line, has contracted at Metropolis for several new packets.

The magnificent steamer Mississippi will be in port to leave on Wednesday for New Orleans. Capt. Nat Green is master.

Our friend Mr. H. G. Patterson, well known on the river, has accepted the position of freight agents of the Memphis and New Orleans Fast Freight line. His experience while a steamboat man gives him an insight into his new business not enjoyed by every one. We regret however to see our old river men deserting their first-love, and having to adopt other means of livelihood.

The U. S. mail packet Mayflower, Capt. Jim Rice backs out to-morrow for all landings on White river and connecting with the Little Rock train at Devall's Bluff. Milt Harry and Charley Sharpe are clerks.

The Submarine No. 12 has arrived at Vicksburg with eighty tons of old iron, boilers, etc., taken from the sunken steamboats and gunboats in the Yazoo and Tallahatchie rivers. She succeeded in finding the gunboat Cairo, which was sunk by the Confederate torpedoes in 1863, near Burke's plantation. She got a lot of plating from off her, as well as from the gunboat DeKalb. She will return to the Cairo for the purpose of recovering the guns on her.

Capt. Smith, of the Lida Norvell, who was shot at Vicksburg by Watson, the clerk of that boat, has recovered and takes command of the Norvell again.

The elegant Mary Forsyth, Capt. Ziegler, did not get away yesterday, owing to bad weather, but leaves to-day at 9 a.m. for Cairo and St. Louis. Her popular Secretaries, White and Briggs, make all at home who travel on the Forsyth.

The Ozark is the mail packet for Pine Bluff this evening. She goes through to Little Rock and makes all way landings. Light, handsome and comfortable, she is the very boat for passengers and shippers. Bill Nowland is master, and Ed. Outlaw, clerk.

The Natoma, Capt. Lee, with Fields, Whitehead and Lee at the desk, goes out to-morrow for Friar's Point. The Natoma is second to none of our local packets, and is prompt as the town clock. Don't forget her.

The very elegant steamer Agnes, Capt. Streeper, leaves to-day for all points on the St. Francis river. Capt. Streeper has many warm personal friends in this section who would rejoice in his well-doing in whatever trade he enters.

The fine steamer Belle Memphis, Capt. John Crane, with Blenker in the office, backs out to-day for Cairo, St. Louis and all intermediate points. She is a lightning packet.

The Des Arc, Capt. John Elliott, is the regular independent White river packet leaving to-day. She makes all way landings, goes to Jacksonport, and goes rapidly. Joe Elliott and Matt Glass are her popular clerks.

The Mollie Hambleton, the prime old favorite with everybody, the prompt and always reliable St. Francis river packet, gets away for that stream to-morrow. In the absence of Capt. Bowman, the no less competent Capt. Paine is master, while Billy Clark and Shell do the office honors.

The silver Moon will be in port to-day. Ben Merrieles will back her out for Cincinnati on Wednesday with all the cotton she wants.

The Luminary, Capt. Lockhart, will pass up for St. Louis to-day. She is the regular Vicksburg and St. Louis packet.

DR. JAMES is recommended by the press of the country, by professors of medical colleges, and by the medical profession generally. Those afflicted should apply to him, and be cured at once.
